Omnis Multi-Manager Balanced Fund

Investment Manager Market Review

Quarter 1, 2018

The Fund was down slightly during the period. In January, we reduced holdings in the bond sub-portfolio a little by reducing iShares USD Treasury 7-10yr exchange-traded fund (ETF), which had performed poorly due to dollar weakness compared with sterling. Similarly, the weak dollar had a negative impact on iShares USD Corporate Bond ETF and iShares JPM USD Emerging Markets Bond ETF.

After January's stock markets falls, we added to iShares MSCI Japan ETF and Vanguard S&P500 in February. We also sold our remaining holding in iShares USD Treasury 7-10yr Bond ETF. When asset prices corrected later in February, the portfolio benefited from its mildly cautious investment approach and its holdings in actively managed funds. The best performing equities were holdings in Lindsell Train UK Equity and Vanguard US Opportunities.

In March, we increased our equity holdings early in the month with a small increase to iShares FTSE 100 ETF, but reduced this later in the month, and also reduced the holding in iShares S&P 500 ETF, as concerns grew about a trade war between the US and other countries. Franklin UK Managers' Focus was a highlight for the portfolio, while the defensively oriented Lindsell Train UK Equity held up well, and Vanguard US Opportunities was also robust.
