Investment Manager Market Review

Quarter 3, 2018

Given solid fundamental research insights, a reasonable time horizon, and the ability to withstand short-term volatility, the Fund Manager believes opportunities in the fixed income markets can be exploited to achieve risk-adjusted returns. The team employs a top-down approach to macroeconomic research to understand the outlook for economies and policies across the developed world. The team assesses how domestic and global fundamental factors will affect growth, inflation and therefore monetary policy. They also assess global risk appetite to determine the demand for safe-haven assets and the relative value between gilts and other safe-haven assets.

The portfolio captures strategic views within the agreed investment parameters and is positioned to outperform over the medium term. Interest rate risk is the key driver of return, but allocations to longer or shorter dated bonds and security selection can also be powerful tools. The team is constantly debating its views, and is quick to reposition if it believes the environment is changing.
